I remember going to my first step show with you at Cal State Long Beach. You were like the big sister I never had. You were always smiling and I am going to miss seeing your smile and face. I couldn't wait until Kevin's football season came around so that I could hang out with you...lol. May you rest in peace beautiful. Amber

Maisha, you touched the lives of many, far and near with your beautiful smile, your bubbly personality, and your caring attitude. You lived, and you enjoyed life I am so happy that you loved GOD, and shared your faith, openly with so many people You will be deeply and sadly missed, however, your warm and vivacious spirit will always remain in our hearts. Although we are grieving, and yes, it still seems, unreal, but GOD knew the Plans HE had for You. I know He received you in HIS loving arms, and said, "Well Done, My Good & Faithful Servant."I didn't get to workout with you at the gym as I promised, but one day, I will see you, again. Rest in Paradise, and Light up Heaven with that beautiful and infectious smile.We Love you,Uncle Wes and Aunt Victoria

Maisha, your life is just not one that I EVER fathomed living without. There are very few pure-hearted and free-spirited people around so I just felt like you'd be a pillar. I guess that why this hurts so much! Because of you, I'm eternally addicted to laughter. Thank God I have all the laughs we shared, your infectious laugh and your smile embedded in my heart forever. I hope you know how much you mean to me. See you when I get there! Love and blessings to the Garrett family on this monumental loss.

You never think your last conversation will be your last with a person. I'm So thankful that our last conversation was about our life goals and looking forward to the future but also embracing the now and finding happiness. So glad to have those few moments alone on the evening of the fundraiser because in my heart I know you were content with life and that brings me a little comfort. I will TRULY TRULY miss you. And I'm thankful little TASTE God gave us. Sometimes a little us all we need. Rest in paradise my friend. Love you always. ❤️
